ABOUT THE CROSS FOR LIFEFLIGHT

LifeFlight covers more than 15,000 miles across Maine each month, delivering lifesaving care to someone facing critical injury or illness. For every single mile of every single mission, a patient is receiving the best medical care possible and the fastest transport available.

Making lifesaving missions possible.

The Cross for LifeFlight makes those lifesaving missions possible. Participants are not just logging miles—they're raising critical funds to keep LifeFlight of Maine equipped and ready to respond to calls for help every day and night of the year.

Every mile we cross. Every dollar we raise.

Every mile crossed and every dollar raised ensures that the next person in Maine who faces a life-threatening medical emergency—a friend, a family member, a neighbor, a fellow Mainer, or a visitor coming here to explore—has access to advanced critical care with the speed of our aircraft. We're giving them their best chance on their worst day.

Our ability to continue this vital work depends on the support of businesses like yours.

Participants pick their mission, cross Maine, and save lives.

When the call for help comes in, LifeFlight is ready to fly anywhere in Maine. Some missions are a short distance away. Others cross the entire state. Participants pick their mission and cross Maine for LifeFlight. They set goals, log miles, and raise critical funds for this lifesaving mission.
