

Need to Know

The goal of the LCU Rec Life Summer Camps is to provide your child with a fun, healthy experience focused on getting them active and playing. In order to provide this experience in a safe environment, we need some help from you. Please read over this form and let us know if you have any questions.

Camp Readiness:

- Can your child attend to toilet needs and eating on their own? All campers must be potty trained and capable of attending to personal needs on their own.
- Can your child follow simple instructions in a structured environment? Rules are set to provide for camper safety.
- Does my child need a morning nap? We will not provide nap time.

Drop-Off/Pick-Up

- You will need to escort your child to the check-in table and sign them in every morning. Check-in table may be located directly at the front desk of the Rec Center.
- During drop-off, you will be asked to provide the name of anyone that may pick-up your child that day. That person will need to have a photo ID, otherwise you will need to pick-up your child personally. This is to insure the safety of all children attending the camp.

When to keep your camper home. In order to prevent the spread of contagious illnesses, please keep your camper at home if they have any of the following.

- Fever of more than 100 within the past 24 hours.
- Diarrhea or vomiting within the past 24 hours.
- Any unexplained rash.

If you need to contact the camp during camp hours, please call 806-720-7860.

Rec Camp Behavior Policy

The goal of the LCU Rec Summer Camp is provide a fun, safe, and active environment for your children. To help with this environment, we have a Behavior Intervention Policy. The policy is outlined below for your records.

Rules: The 3 "R's" of Respect

1. Respect the Counselors and Directors
2. Respect Each Other
3. Respect the Buildings/Fields and Supplies

Consequences:

1. Verbal Warning
 - a. Verbal warnings are to be clear and concise. The child will be specifically told, "This is your verbal warning, please..." Counselors will refrain from negative comments during this time. Counselors will be specific in explaining the violation that occurred and what the child should do next time.
2. Time-Out for twice the campers age
 - a. Campers will always be supervised during time-out. The child will be placed to the side of the game or activity that is occurring and in sight of multiple staff members. A non-lead counselor or director will be near the child and specifically responsible for the administration of the time-out length. If your camper receives a time-out or more, a form will be sent home for your records.
 - b. If a camper is disruptive during the time-out, the time will restart until the camper can complete the time-out length.
3. Talk with the director
 - a. If a child is disruptive after a time-out has been given, they will be sent to talk to one of the directors of the camp. During this time, the director will assess the situation and decide on further consequences. Consequences will include an additional time-out, sitting out the remainder of the current activity, or contacting the camper's parents and sending the camper home.

Please note, everyone gets a fresh start every day. Consequences DO NOT carry over to the next day. One exception, if a child's behavior is deemed unsafe for themselves or others, or if the child is causing a major disruption to the functioning of camp, the child will not be allowed to participate in the rest of the week. If a child is sent home on 2 separate camp days, the child will not be allowed to participate the rest of the week. No refunds will be given if a child is restricted from camp participation due to violation of the camp behavioral policy. At NO TIME, will corporal, physical, or degrading punishment be allowed at camp. Any staff members participating in such will be dismissed from camp immediately and permanently.
