About My Tourette

Hi! My name is Nathan Chamot, I'm 17 years old, and I'm a Youth Ambassador for the Tourette Association of America. I have met with Congress, done presentations locally, and have had articles published about my advocacy. I advocate for Tourette Syndrome because I don't want others to face the same struggles I did growing up with Tourette. It took me years to receive a diagnosis after I started showing symptoms, and that left me feeling unjustified in myself for many years. That's why I'm organizing a 5K to raise money for my organization, which brings support, awareness, and treatment to the Tourette Community, so that others don't go through the same struggles I went through.
