

Kosair for Kids

The Pediatric Neurorecovery Fund pays the medical bills for children receiving treatment at the Kosair for Kids Center for Pediatric Neurorecovery at the University of Louisville. This care is led by researcher and physical therapist, Dr. Andrea Behrman, who specializes in recovery from paralysis through activity-based therapy.

Dr. Behrman's patients require this specialized therapy multiple times a week, and Kosair for Kids is there to pick up what insurance won't cover.

Kosair for Kids provides more than $1.1M in funding to the Kosair for Kids Center for Pediatric Neurorecovery Center each year.

Over the last 5 years, Kosair for Kids has provided more than $320,000 in financial assistance directly for children receiving therapy through the Kosair for Kids Pediatric Neurorecovery Center.

Watch this video to see how your gifts to the Pediatric Neurorecovery Fund make an impact!

Visit kosair.org to recommend a child for assistance.