1. LA QUINTA, OUR HOST HOTEL

La Quinta Inn & Suites in Danbury, CT (approx. 5 miles away from New Pond Farm) has been chosen as our HOST HOTEL for this event. They are ranked #1 on Trip Advisor and are offering a discounted rate of $84.00 plus tax per night when you mention “Redding Road Race.” They will also be extending this special rate a day prior and after the event. Enjoy their FREE Continental Brightside Breakfast each morning and grab a bite at Outback Steakhouse located in the hotel. For those staying for the race, they are offering a FREE PASTA meal to help you carb up the day before the event! This includes: salad, pasta, rolls, and unlimited water. (1 meal ticket per room) For reservations, call 203-798-1200 and ask for the “Redding Road Race rate.” Be sure to request a late checkout if necessary!

2. REDDING ROAD RACE 2015 PREVIEW RUN

For anyone who wants to run the half course or the 7 mile course ahead of time (except for the farm part, as we have to keep some things sacred), we do a preview race every year.

WHEN: Sunday April 12th

TIME: 9am for the half, 10am for the 7 miler

WHERE: At the corners of Side Cut Rd, Simpaug Turnpike and Long Ridge Rd. See the map below, X marks the spot to park. This is almost 2 miles into the regular race and is near the Post Office, Metro North and Lombardi's.

WHAT WILL BE THERE: Typically runners, coffee, water, Gatorade, donuts and I will arrow the course so nobody gets lost (hopefully).

3. YOGA AND HEALTH COACHING FOR ATHLETES BY MAGGIE CONVERSE:

If you could utilize a little help in your training, nutrition, stress management, etc. why not take advantage of Maggie's free 30 minute consultation, exclusive to RRR15 runners? If you like her program, it could benefit you while benefitting the race, as Maggie has pledged to donate 15% of program fees to the race. More from Maggie (who is also running the race):

Yoga and Health Coaching for Athletes

Preparing for an athletic event involves long hours pounding the pavement, trail, or treadmill. It also involves taking care of ourselves by ensuring we are nourishing our bodies, our minds, and our souls. It involves mindfulness of how we are managing stress. How are we tending to our career? Our relationships? Believe it or not, our health is not just based on food and exercise, though these factors do play a large role. When adding the extra component of an endurance event, it is important not to neglect these areas of our lives. Why else sign up for a race if not to thoroughly enjoy the process of training and racing while challenging the body and mind?

Sign up for a free health coaching consultation and when you sign up for a 1 to 6 month program with Health Coach Maggie Converse, 15% of the proceeds go directly to Redding Road Race. You can learn more about Maggie at <https://maggieconverse.wordpress.com/>. Contact her directly for questions and rates at maggie.converse@gmail.com.

Here is a link to Maggie's piece detailing how endurance events helped her deal with body image issues:

Redding Road Race runners receive a FREE 30 minute health coach phone consultation. Following their consult they will have the option to select a 1, 3, or 6 Month Program which includes:

- Weekly check-ins to re-evaluate short term goals
- Determine 2-3 long term goals to work toward
- Daily email check-ins Monday-Friday
- Weekly 30 min. phone call

Each program is personalized based on the individual's needs. We cover areas such as:

- Diet and nutrition guidance
- Training and race day nutrition guidance
- Career
- Relationships
- Managing stress

With athletes we also address the following:

- Mantras for training
- Mantras for race day
- How to cope with feelings of isolation (yes we laugh about this as athletes but it's a real thing!)
- Cultivating mindfulness for optimal nutrition when training and racing
- Using your breath as a tool to power you through your race day

4. RACE STATS – I LOVE STATS!!

- The 2015 race has 19 states represented and 4 countries.
- In the race's 4 years we've seen runners from 8 countries (US, Canada, Columbia, Germany, France, Great Britain, Ireland and the Netherlands) and 144 Connecticut towns.
- The 2015 race has 106 Connecticut towns out of 169 represented – pretty impressive considering the “remoteness” of Redding.
- The 2015 race sold out in 4 days (thank you!!) – up from 7 days in 2014, 8 days in 2013 and 45 days in the inaugural 2012 race.
- 64.8% of the field is female (highest ever in the 4 year event)
- Average age: 42.5
- Youngest: 12 (7 miler)
- Most experienced: 75 (Mighty Cower, yes Mighty Cower!!)

5. MILE MARKER SPONSORS WANTED

If anybody has a business or a family that would like to be a Mile Marker Sponsor, contact me. Our sponsors are awesome and help us raise a lot of money for the farm. A sample mile marker is below, the sponsor logo would go on the bottom left of the sign (the mile number will be on the bird).

Benefits to Sponsorship:

Opportunity for your business to have a vendor table at baggage pickup and race day.

Opportunity to have a coupon or other item placed in the runner's bags

Logo displayed on the www.reddingroadrace.com website with website redirect.

Logo displayed on a race mile marker (see sign below).

Complimentary 1/4 page advertisement in our finishers magazine.

Payment of $200 – NEW SIGN BELOW

6. PACE TEAM FOR THE HALF MARATHON

www.beastpacing.com

We're always trying to make this race a better experience, so, we're excited to announce that we have Beast Pacing leading our runners to goal times for the first time this year. I like to say that if you set a PR (personal record) on this course then congratulations on finishing your first half marathon, BUT, if you have a time in mind (typically from 1:30 to 2:30 in 5 minute increments) hook up with a pace runner and let him or her lead the way.

8. RRR15 RACE ROSTER

- Please check the roster and send me any corrections (including shirt size and name on bib) – ROSTER IS LOCATED AT THE END OF THIS NEWSLETTER
- This is absolutely your last chance to pick a bib number. If you don't have a bib number on the roster, you either didn't pick one or yours was chosen by someone else. Note, there is no need to pick one if you don't want one – it will be assigned. Available bib numbers are listed by race below the roster.

9. FAVORITE RACE SUBMISSION – NORFOLK 10 MILE PUB RUN

Matt DeMaio, Old Saybrook, CT

I am a relative newbie to road racing (since January 2012), but one thing is for certain: You should make it a point to run the Norfolk Pub 10-Miler.

Do you get a shirt for running: No. Do you get a goodie-bag: No. Do you get a finishing medal: No. What you do get is every bit of a challenging course and a great way to end the road racing year.

With a cost of $13 in 2014, this no frills, rurally scenic, just-get-out-there-and-run race is held on the weekend before Christmas. Plus, most Decembers in New England allow Norfolk to live up to its nickname, “The Ice Box of Connecticut”.

The course has gravel road, which you encounter in the first few miles and on your way back. Of note, and be sure to save some energy for the entire race, the course is plagued with a ton of rolling hills throughout. The worst of the hills comes literally just past the 7-mile marker making mile 8 an arduous one. Mile 9 does afford you the benefit of the backside of this climb, but it deceptively leads you to a tough, steep climb at mile 9 ½. Once past, you are eagerly looking for the finish line.

The race is 10 miles, but when all is said and done, feels like a ½ marathon. All the more reason to keep your bib, because there is a ticket attached for a free beverage (make it a tap beer) at the Norfolk Pub afterwards.

Greystone Racing Club is in charge of this race and registration is at the Norfolk Town Hall. The Pub is behind it, accessed by a short down-hill walk on a path. It's not yet posted for 2015, but I'm sure the 17th annual running of this event will be fun. Hope to see you there!

10. RUNNER STORY – ERIN

Hi my name is Erin McGuire, I am 18 years old and I am from Avon Connecticut. I am currently a senior at Avon High School, and in the process of choosing my school for next year. I am also training for Ironman Lake Placid.

A little background about my running history, I started running freshman year when I decided to join the cross-country team. Practices were tough for a new runner and the races were even more brutal, but I stuck with it. My coach never gave up on me and pushed me very hard. During my sophomore and junior years I started to become interested in long distance running. I trained and ran my first half-marathon and fell in love with running. Senior year I was captain of the cross-country team, and a varsity member. I cut off over 10 minutes off my freshman time and felt amazing. But this is only one aspect of a triathlon, I reminded myself that I still need to swim and bike...

An Ironman Triathlon is a long distance event that consists of a 2.4-mile swim, 112-mile bike ride, and a 26.2-mile run, raced in that order with no break. It is widely considered one of the most difficult one-day sporting events. The event has a strict time limit of 17 hours, with each separate leg also having a time limit. The average age of an Ironman Triathlete is 40 years old. I will be one of the youngest competitors, at only 18.

I decided to sign up for this race (a year ago!!!!!!) for multiple reasons. The first reason was because I have been volunteering at this race for many years and it was so inspiring to watch the athletes complete something they worked so hard for. Another reason was because I have close family friends; Dave Cappello, Esther Aronson, and Pete Suttmier, who have already finished Ironman's and easily talked me into it. Another reason was because right now I am only 18, and have the most amazing support team, my parents help me out so much. A final reason is because I wanted a goal. I live for goals, and this was the ultimate goal, and I knew with hard work I could achieve it.

I am very lucky because after I signed up for the event, my father announced that he also has signed himself up. I couldn't have asked for a better way to end my senior year then training with my dad. We train almost everyday together, and when ever one of us is feeling unmotivated; the other will be there to help and support the one in need.

The race is July 26th, 2015 in Lake Placid New York. I have thought about this race every single day since I have signed up. I also have never wanted warm weather and for the snow to melt so badly. I can't wait to run the Redding Road Race for the 2nd time. Last year I had an amazing time, I am defiantly a hill runner, so the course was perfect for me!

11. RUNNER STORY – MIRIAM

Running began as exercise for me. It then burgeoned into a cause, and then into a commitment. One day my senior year of college I decided to wake up early and go for a run. This is when early meant 7 a.m. I ran (jogged, really) down and back the back roads of campus. It turned out to be a 2 mile run, a genuine “there and back.” It wasn’t a love affair or anything, and I probably didn’t even own what were proper running shoes. But I kept this up fall and spring, and continued intermittent swimming days during the winter. By the end of senior year, I lost about 20 pounds and could run a decent 3 miler. I wasn’t in it for time; time was more for reading and papers, and honor code exams. And I did still indulge in the occasional pint of Ben and Jerry’s.

Less than a decade later, running for me turned into a cause. It is when I joined the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society’s Team in Training to raise money for cancer research and run the LA Marathon. That cause is close to my heart for a couple of reasons. First, I had Hodgkin’s Lymphoma and had gone through 6 months of chemotherapy. During that period, I just focused on grad school pre-reqs, treatment, and, exercise. At the time, exercise meant anything from rollerblading, to running, to basketball games in the local league; my focus was on leading a normal life and chemo was another thing I did in between those other life things. I didn't stop to think about "giving back." Second, my best friend from childhood died from complications while going through treatment, also for Hodgkin's Lymphoma. This was a sudden event, not long after I had seen her over Thanksgiving, and I was devastated. At a loss, new to Southern California and my job, I continued my work at Cal Poly Pomona and did what I could to grieve.

One of the deans at work stopped to chat as he was on his way out the office. He mentioned he was heading off for a CT scan. In response I said something along the lines of, "well, enjoy that barium sulfate!" He looked at me and said, "You too?" So we exchanged histories, and he told me of his diagnosis of metastatic melanoma. More importantly, he told me about the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society and Team in Training. That was it, my chance to "give back." I told him I would look into it, and a month later I had registered for the Los Angeles Marathon as a member of the San Gabriel Valley Team in Training Chapter.

My coach was the awesome Jimmy Dean Freeman, a Boston qualifier, Western States competitor, stand-up comedian, and one of the most inspirational, motivational coaches a newbie could have. The team bonded in weeks, and sure enough, as Jimmy said, folks would be looking for you every Saturday morning. We trained at the Rose Bowl, up to Devil's Gate Dam, then on the trails behind JPL and to Elmer Smith Bridge, our turn-around point. That was for the 10 miler. We'd start south then to Elmer Smith for those 20 milers. I didn't understand pace or time, or anything, just killing cancer.

Race day was not a disaster so much as a let-down for the front runners. 90 degree heat after 60s. No one finished at their predicted or goal time. Those of us who didn't know better (thankfully!) were so happy to finish. The top female overall winner was a 50 year old from Russia who won given a 20:30 head-start as part of a bonus-prize challenge the race organizers had introduced between the elite women and men. Remember the heat, friends.

My parents were there for me at the finish line, as was a dear friend. They asked how I was doing. I said, next time I'm running a half. And so far, that is exactly what I've done.

And lastly, the commitment. In graduate school, I started to take running more seriously. Running became a commitment because it was the time and space where I could "just be." Peer review didn't matter or exist, and on those midweek or long runs, neither did my research or advisor. For the record, I had an excellent advisor. My commitment grew when I enrolled in a "total runner" class offered in town. We focused on dynamic stretching, strength, core, agility, and speed. I worked on sprints. A lot. I had 2 running coaches over that time, different in approach and both equally knowledgeable and accomplished. I learned about training schedules, hills, and tempo runs, weekly mileage, pace, and how I felt. I discovered more deeply that running was a time when I was accountable only to myself --and that felt very, very good. A year after I finished my PhD I finally had time to become an RRCA certified running coach. (There is a limit, even to multitasking.)

Whether as exercise, a cause, or a commitment, running has now been part of my life for over 20 years. I celebrate with you the miles, the companionship, and the millions of reasons you run.

We had a bag stuffing party (thanks Redding Running Club Members) – what used to take my family a month to do, took 3 hours!! Above – the race bags have taken over our living room. By the way, if you happen to get more than one cowbell, magnet, etc... blame it on the beer stop on the assembly line

Cheers,

John
