What is a Gran Fondo?

The Black Bear Gran Fondo is a race, a ride, a celebration at the finish line and it's an event for cyclists of all abilities. Some cyclists ride for the satisfaction and pride of just making it to the finish line. Others want to improve upon their previous times and to challenge themselves, their friends, their teammates. Some ride to win.

What is a Gran Fondo Start?

Mass start where riders are required to stage according to their ability to ride in a large group. It doesn't mean all riders need to ride in a large group; the fastest riders start at the front and they will, most likely, end up riding in a large, fast group. All other riders can progress at the speed in which they are most comfortable, some will ride alone, some will ride with others progressing at a similar speed. If any rider is in doubt of their ability to securely hold an even line at high speed with riders in close proximity, it is vital that they line up towards the back of the start line group. All route chip-timing is relative to when the riders cross the line, so no time penalty will be incurred by starting further back in the group. Gun time will also be tracked.

We will organize cyclists based on the following ride speed. We are asking cyclists to self-select their starting position based on speed and training program. Please take a look at the guidelines below, then make an honest assessment of your abilities/objectives for the event and choose the appropriate position during the line-up process:

Front of the pack:

22-25 MPH/35-40 KPH, trains at least 10 hours/week

Mid pack:

18-21 MPH/29-34 KPH, trains 8-10 hours/week

Back of the pack:

14-17 MPH/23-28 KPH, trains 3-6 hours/week
